

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Water Works!

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island

October 14-16, ACWWA 2012

Event Outline

The water and wastewater field includes a diverse collection of issues and people that work on those issues. The issues or challenges, not only relate directly to the traditional “water works” department, but also to the vast collection of varied individuals that are directly or indirectly engaged in water work. Similarly, we continue to strive to understand more about how water works in connection with our physical health and our environment. The 2012 Conference will offer something for everyone involved in water and wastewater, from those focused on water sources and protection, to those charged with the responsibility of wastewater treatment and disposal. The 2012 Conference theme serves to remind us that water works means different things to different people. It will be one of the only opportunities in 2012 in Atlantic Canada to share experiences with and learn from your friends and colleagues.
